RNN Group Named Headline Sponsor for Wentfest 2026

RNN Group is to be the headline sponsor for Wentfest 2026, an incredible family festival of music, comedy and performing arts hosted at Hooton Lodge Farm, Rotherham on Saturday 13th June with confirmed headline act – star of music, stage and screen – Jason Donovan!

RNN Group (made up of campuses including Rotherham College, North Notts College, Dearne Valley College and University Centre Rotherham (UCR)) is proud to be supporting this local community event right in the heart of South Yorkshire and two of our Colleges, Rotherham College and Dearne Valley College.

The Group is excited to be involved primarily for the opportunities it brings to our students including providing a platform for Performing Arts students from the College to programme and perform their own schedule of entertainment throughout the day, talks and workshops in a variety of industries including event planning / management, facilities management, catering, audio / visual creative production marketing, performing arts facilitated by the Wentfest team in the run up to the event, as well as work experience on the day at the event.

Wentfest started life as Wentworth Festival back in 2017, organised by local residents Toby Foster and Steve White and bringing huge chart names including Blue, Scouting For Girls, Heather Small, Five, Tony Hadley, The Feeling, Lemar and Kim Wilde to Rotherham.

In addition to the Main Stage, there will be a Comedy & Spoken Word Stage, programmed by our sister company The Last Laugh Comedy Club, Yorkshire's longest-running comedy club. Since it's inception in the 1990's The Last Laugh has introduced Yorkshire to some of the biggest names in comedy, including Peter Kay, Alan Carr, Jason Manford, Ross Noble, John Bishop and Jimmy Carr to name just a few.

The addition of the New Music Stage is our chance to support fantastic up and coming grassroots talent from our area, giving them the chance to appear on the same bill as some of the world's biggest chart acts. Examples of bands that have gone on to huge success since performing on the Wentfest New Music Stage are Late Night Legacy, Shanghai Treason and The Rosadocs, the latter who have band members who went to Rotherham College.

Mark Ryan, Vice-Principal, Curriculum, RNN Group said,

"This is a fantastic collaboration for the RNN Group and its colleges and the opportunities for students will be immense.

"To be able to offer work experience and workshops on various key career opportunities to our students in the run up and on the day of a local Rotherham event of this scale is fantastic for our students across all of our sites."

Toby Foster, Wentfest Founder, added

"This a fantastic partnership for Wentfest as it really reflects what our event is about, a truly local festival for the people of Rotherham. Not only do we bring the biggest stars of music and comedy to our doorstep, we're also very passionate about offering a platform for up-and-coming talent to showcase their skills – whether that be performing, working behind the scenes or even helping us plan the event in advance."

As a former Rotherham College student myself this feels like a full-circle moment for me and both Steve and myself, as well as the extended Wentfest team, can't wait to work with both staff and students."

Frontline Policing: Insight from Dog Handlers

We were incredibly proud to serve as a sponsor for the Before Christmas, Protective Services students welcomed Dog Handlers PC Dean Allen and PC James Sills from Nottinghamshire Police.

Both officers shared their insights into how trained police dogs support frontline policing across the county.

Through discussion and demonstration, learners explored how dog handlers operate in demanding situations. Real examples showed how police dogs assist with searches, public safety operations, and specialist detection work.

Focus then moved to career pathways within policing and specialist units. Officers explained how dog handlers begin as police constables before progressing through experience and advanced training.

Links were also made between the Protective Services courses and careers within policing and uniformed services. By developing leadership, discipline, and public service values, the course supports progression into these specialist roles.

Engaging directly with serving officers strengthened learning by showing how classroom theory applies in real operational policing. Learners also gained clear insight into career expectations and professional standards.

Project Based Learning Celebrates First Successful Cohort

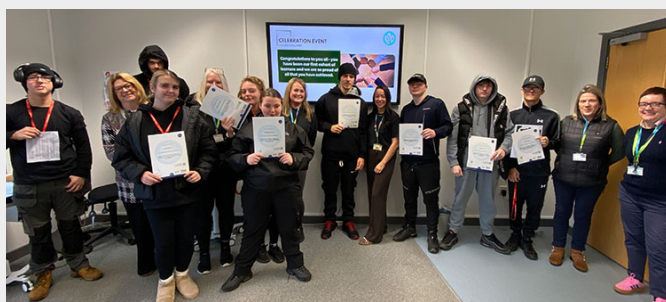

Yesterday at their base in Idle Valley Nature Reserve, staff and learners from Project Based Learning gathered to celebrate the first successful cohort.

Twelve weeks ago, this small group began a journey that brought together diverse backgrounds, experiences, and goals.

Developed for 16 to 19-year-olds who are NEET (Not in Education, Employment, or Training), Project Based Learning lets learners explore education at their own pace. Through practical projects, confidence grows as communication, problem-solving, and resilience are strengthened. Personalised plans provide clear direction, supporting each learner towards vocational opportunities at North Notts College or beyond.

Celebration kicked off with a presentation reflecting on twelve weeks of learner progress. Staff highlighted moments of determination and skill development as students embraced new challenges. Outdoor and collaborative activities showed learners stepping beyond comfort zones, growing in confidence and independence. Each story demonstrated the remarkable progress made and personal milestones achieved throughout the programme.

Following the presentation, certificates were presented by staff members to recognise effort, achievement, and development. Applause filled the room as learners received their awards, marking a proud milestone and providing a strong foundation for future learning or employment opportunities.

Jenny Marsden, Project Based Learning tutor at North Notts College, said:

“This programme has been about more than completing projects. Learners gained confidence and belief in themselves. Week by week, they engaged, supported each other, and celebrated achievements. These certificates show what learners can achieve when given the right opportunities.”

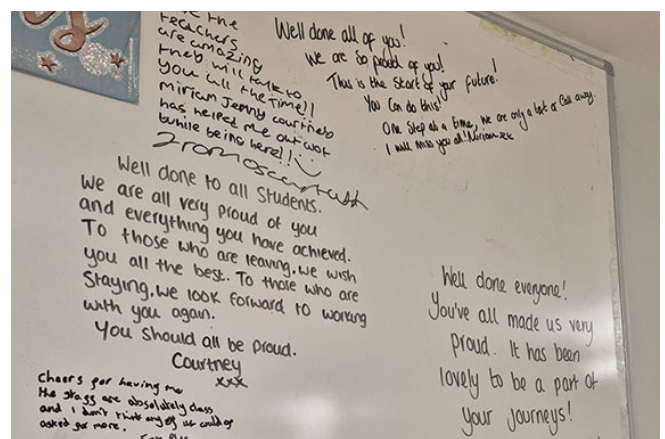

Miriam Fieldsend, Pastoral Life Coach at North Notts College, added:

“Through both indoor and outdoor experiences, each student stepped beyond their comfort zone, trying new things. Their greatest breakthroughs did not come from textbooks alone, but from honesty, reflection, and a belief that steadily grew within them. It is in this space, where challenge meets support and that confidence was rebuilt and lasting success was formed.”

Tracey Mace-Akroyd, Deputy CEO/Principal at RNN Group, said:

“I am delighted with the success of the Project-Based Learning curriculum, which supports our most vulnerable young people to overcome disadvantaged barriers. This new programme delivers high-quality, project-based practical lessons reinforced with trauma-informed and restorative approaches. Learners develop positive behaviour management strategies and personal skills in a safe supportive learning environment. They achieve, belong and thrive. We are proud to make a real difference, often in ways that are not immediately visible but that are lasting and transformative.”

Community Cheers: Our First Ever Christmas Event!

We are thrilled to share that our first-ever Christmas Event was a lovely, fun, and festive day!

The atmosphere was brimming with festive cheer and warmth as people from the community came out to join the celebrations and get involved.

The highlight for many of our younger guests was undoubtedly meeting Santa Claus and his trusty Elf! Children had the magical opportunity to sit next to Santa and tell him what they would like for Christmas! After speaking with Santa, they then got to pick a present out of Santa's sack.

Children could then also go up to one of our classrooms and write more of their Christmas wishes and post them directly into our special Santa Post Box – an experience that sparked true Christmas excitement!

The event offered a fantastic array of activities, blending fun with our curriculum themes:

Animal Encounters: Guests got the unique chance to explore and handle some of our wonderful animals, guided by our Animal and Land-based tutors who were also busy making delicious s'mores outside!

Creative Competitions: Our Esports team hosted thrilling gaming competitions, while Construction showcased their skills by building Santa's chimney out of bricks and crafting a fun toss the hoop game.

Motor Vehicle Magic: The Motor Vehicle department truly brought the North Pole to life by constructing the amazing sleigh that Santa sat in! They also hosted popular games like 'Guess how many nuts and bolts are in the jar'.

Health's Generosity: The Health department organised a fantastic raffle table that was overflowing with amazing prizes, which added to the day's overall excitement. FLEX had a wonderful stall with all sorts of handmade goodies that students and staff had made throughout the month leading up to the event.

Our canteen was transformed into a little marketplace featuring stalls stocked with wonderful, handcrafted goods. Attendees could find handmade wooden reindeers, beautiful plants, unique baubles and trinkets, special reindeer food and much more! With hot food and drinks readily available, everyone stayed warm and energised throughout the day.

The event was a beautiful display of Christmas spirit and community happiness. A massive thank you to everyone who attended and contributed to making our Christmas event so memorable. We are already looking forward to making next year's event even bigger and better!
